LEARN MORE ABOUT AGING IN RURAL MINNESOTA

The aging population in rural Minnesota faces unique challenges that significantly affect their quality of life and access to essential services. Unlike their urban counterparts, older adults in these areas deal with a scarcity of resources and services tailored to their needs.

This event is offered by Arrowhead AAA, MNRiver AAA, Dancing Sky AAA, SEMAAA and CMCOA and will present findings from the report created in partnership with the National Rural Health Resource Center Rural Health Innovations and University of Minnesota Rural Health Research Center
